

August 2021

The first half of 2021 is behind us. As we continue to experience the ups and downs of living through a pandemic, a mid-year financial checkup may be more important than ever. Here are some ways to make sure that your financial situation is continuing on the right path:

REASSESS YOUR FINANCIAL GOALS

At the beginning of the year, you may have set financial goals geared toward improving your financial situation. Perhaps you wanted to save more, spend less, or reduce your debt. How much progress have you made? If your income, expenses, and life circumstances have changed, you may need to rethink your priorities. Review your financial statements and account balances to determine whether you need to make any changes to keep your financial plan on track.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR TAXES

Completing a mid-year estimate of your tax liability may reveal new tax planning opportunities. You can use last year's tax return as a basis, then factor in any anticipated adjustments to your income and deductions for this year. Check your withholding, especially if you owed taxes or received a large refund. Doing that now, rather than waiting until the end of the year, may help you avoid owing a big tax bill next year or overpaying taxes and giving Uncle Sam an interest-free loan. You can check your withholding by using the IRS Tax Withholding Estimator at www.irs.gov. If necessary, adjust the amount of federal or state income tax withheld from your paycheck by filing a new Form W-4 with your employer.

CHECK YOUR RETIREMENT SAVINGS

If you're still working, look for ways to increase retirement plan contributions. For example, if you received a pay increase this year, you could contribute a higher percentage of your salary to your employer-sponsored retirement plan, such as a 401(k), 403(b), or 457(b) plan. For 2021, the contribution limit is $19,500, or $26,000 if you're age 50 or older.

If you are close to retirement or already retired, take another look at your retirement income needs and whether your current investment and distribution strategy will provide the income you will need.

EVALUATE YOUR INSURANCE COVERAGE

What are the deductibles and coverage limits of your homeowners/renters insurance policies? How much disability or life insurance coverage do you have? Your insurance needs can change over time. As a result, you'll want to make sure your coverage has kept pace with your income and family/personal circumstances. The cost and availability of life insurance depend on factors such as age, health, and the type and amount of insurance purchased.

ASK QUESTIONS

Finally, to wrap up your mid-year review, you should consider contacting your advisor to discuss the following topics:

- Do you have enough savings in your emergency fund to cover unexpected expenses?
- Do you have money left in your flexible spending account?
- Are your beneficiary designations up-to-date?
- Do you need to create or update your will, trust or other estate documents?
- When looking at your portfolio, is your asset allocation still in line with your financial goals, time horizon, and tolerance for risk? Have you experienced any major changes in your financial situation? Are any changes to your portfolio warranted as a result?

As always, we are here to help. So, if this information has raised any questions for you regarding your particular circumstance, or if you'd like additional information on the topics mentioned here, please contact your PCM advisor to discuss.

Sincerely,
The Private Capital Management Team
